THE BLOG

This “Chinese Lawyers in Shanghai, Shenzhen, Guangzhou and Beijing” blog, devoted to provide China-related legal information to foreign individuals and overseas Chinese who are personally involved in family matters with China elements (such as assets located in China) and small & medium sized corporate investors that want to tap or are tapping Chinese market potential. This blog will cover those legal topics that directly affect those clients such as China divorce laws, inheritance, trusts and banking, foreign investment regulations, corporate laws (M&A), foreign exchange etc. In addition, legal service related to real estate businesses is one of the core practices of the blogger, Jason Tian, and his team members. In particular, we advise foreign investors or buyers to acquire or purchase real estates in China, commercial or residential.

For foreign individuals or expats living and working in China, this blog will also provide information that is often inquired in relation to getting married or divorced in China, inheriting properties in China, and personal injury etc..

LANDING LAW OFFICES (SHANGHAI HEADQUARTER)

Shanghai Landing Law Offices is a full-service law firm with its headquarter seated in Shanghai. The firm was founded in 2004, and has been reorganized in March of 2018 from which point it is instilled with new life. It is recognized as one of the China's most innovative law firms with the principle of “Expertise, Internationalization and Scale”, whereby Expertise refers to the requirement that every lawyer at Landing MUST have one core area of law practice with at most two incidental areas so that our professionals can deliver the best services in the legal market; Internationalization refers to our ambitious objective to create a truly international law firm with home in China, and Scale refers to the idea that we want to be a strong firm but don't want to be a just “big” firm as we wish to reduce the problem of conflict of interests and manage our risks. Landing strives to become the top tiered international law firm in the world that is led by Chinese lawyers.

Lawyers at Landing overall can provide full-services to clients in all walks and industries such as family laws (estate planning), commodities, infrastructures, energy, real estate, building and construction, financial and insurance, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, telecommunications, media, intellectual property, entertainment as well as consumer retail in China.

Landing has domestic branches in Beijing, Shenzhen, Lanzhou, Changsha, Wulumuqi, Xi'an and Taiyuan with more to come in the coming years. As driven by our principle of Aggressive Internationalization, it has overseas branches in United States, India (Delhi, Mumbai, and Pune), Singapore, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Philippines and Cambodia. Our future “territory” covers most of the developing countries all over the world.

With access to a global platform, our experienced attorneys and lawyers in vast network around the world work with clients to help them understand local challenges, navigate through regional complexity and find commercial solutions that deliver a competitive advantage for our clients.
